BUSINESS

Overview

Business is one of the most dynamic subjects you can choose! You will be immersed in the business world exploring and critically reviewing topics from a national and global perspective.

By learning about business, you might unlock the entrepreneur inside you as you develop your management, analytical and strategic skills.

Studying Business can really give you a sense of direction for your future career, broadening your horizons. There are endless opportunities out there for you from retail management to digital marketing and forensic accountancy to project management. You will learn how the business world works as you develop a good understanding of entrepreneurship and leadership, marketing, financial performance, managing human resources and resource management.

What to expect in lessons

Lessons will involve a variety of activities including class discussions, independent research and group tasks. There will also be the opportunity to gain insight into topic areas from experts.

We will consider local, national and international businesses so topics can be brought to life. You will always be encouraged to share any relevant knowledge you have gained from your own independent study and from other subjects that you are studying.

Support

The department operates an open-door policy so feel free to see them in person or send them a quick email if you need any help and support.

Equipment that you will need

Basic stationery: pens and highlighters in different colours, plastic wallets, lever arch file and notepad.

Business is an amazing subject to study as you learn what's needed to create a successful company.

I would particularly recommend the course to anyone who wants to start their own business.

Progression

Studying Business will be beneficial whether a student chooses to go straight into employment, an apprenticeship or to university. We hope that some students go on to be the new entrepreneurs of the future and set up their own business.
